Description:-

I teach ordinary people (including non-bakers) how to bake extra ordinary bagels at home.

Detail

Learn every step --from feeding the starter to noshing--for baking amazing bagels. I telescope the process into about 2 1/2 hours of hands on learning. Participants leave with dough to shape, boil, and bake at home, a detailed recipe, and starter. These are probably the most authentic bagels you will ever taste.

REQUEST THIS SERVICE

Description:-

Crochet is great for recycling materials, reducing costs and as a hobby to help anxiety and hyperactivity! I can support your confidence in crocheting, teaching basic stitches, helping you work towards a project, or reading a pattern. Let me know if you have specific stitches, you'd like to learn. Right or left-handed, I can help you find good tutorials and patterns. I can loan hooks and yarn if you're local (England).

Detail

I can crochet multiple accessories; bags, flannels, hats, scarves, toys and clothing. We can finger crochet or crochet traditionally. I can teach multiple stitches and methods, (sc, dc, tc, Tunisian, basket weave, colour changing). I can offer adaptive support if you have mobility issues.

REQUEST THIS SERVICE

Description:-

Spinning consists of turning or rolling the wool until it becomes more resistant, ideal for weaving. To spin the wool manually, a tool called in my community as "Huso" is needed. It consists of a stick that passes through a wooden circle forming a base to wind the thread that will be spun by turning or rolling it and leaving it ready for weaving.

Detail

Once the wool has been spun, we proceed to weave with a needle the backpacks that in my indigenous Arhuaco community we commonly use for our daily activities such as picking fruit or provisions such as yucca or malanga, we also weave our traditional clothing.

Description:-

Do you like music or you always want to have a hobby of playing a kind of instruments that's easy to play and have a melodious sound? If you are looking for this, I strongly suggest you try to learn the Guzheng (Chinese zither).

Detail

Let's have a brief intro to Guzheng- 1. History Guzheng is a traditional Chinese musical instrument with a history of nearly 2000 years. The oldest Guzheng was dated to possibly during the Warring States period (475-221 BCE). By the Tang Dynasty (618-907 CE), the guzheng was perhaps the most commonly played instrument in China. The guzheng is ancestral to several other Asian zithers such as the Japanese koto, the Korean gayageum and ajaeng, Mongolian yatga etc. 2. structure of Guzheng The most common type of Guzheng have 21 strings and is usually 1.6m long. The guzheng consists of the following parts: 21 strings, soundboard, 21 movable bridges, a head, a tail, and bridges on head and tail. 3. What should we do when playing Guzheng? When playing the Guzheng, we should sit correctly and wear fingerpicks on both hands. We use these fingerpicks to pick the strings and make melodious sound of Guzheng.

Description:-

I played a few months many years ago, but I was never graded, and I'm very out of practice, so beginner support is ideal. Tuning, posture and sheet reading (I learn by ear better, though). I want to work up to playing a specific complex song from Gundam Wing (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dWz2BWGxqMI>); I think a guitar music sheet is available for this.

Detail

Are you a flexible teacher up for a challenge? I have EDS (which causes dislocations); therefore, I'd like to find a more accessible way to play the violin (perhaps similar to how Gaelynn Lea plays).

Description:-

Hello! I am a fully qualified Swedish Masseuse living in London - I studied at the School of Natural Therapies and have certificates to prove this. I am looking to learn Italian - I am an absolute beginner - and wondered if any native speakers with some teaching experience would be interested in an exchange: an hour's full body treatment in exchange for two lessons. I'd ideally be looking for lessons on a weekly basis in person, in London (could be from a cafe or from my flat in North London). I am flexible RE days and times so wouldn't need it to be the same every week. Due to the nature of the skillswap I would prefer to hear from only females please - sorry!

Thanks for reading :)
